Cookie Policy

Revised October 10, 2026

This Policy explains how Ayudame uses cookies and similar technologies on its website and web-based services. Ayudame currently uses these technologies only for essential operation, security, session management, and user requested preferences. Ayudame does not currently use optional analytics, advertising cookies, cross site tracking, or targeted advertising.

This Cookie Policy applies to the Ayudame website and any web-based service that links to it. The Privacy Policy provides additional information about how Ayudame collects, uses, shares, and retains personal information.

1. Cookies and similar technologies

A cookie is a small text file placed on a browser or device. Similar technologies include local storage, session storage, pixels, software development kits, and device identifiers. These technologies can remember settings, maintain a session, support security, and help a website function.

2. Technologies Ayudame uses

Essential technologies

Ayudame currently uses cookies and similar technologies only as needed to provide basic website functions, maintain security, manage a requested session, prevent fraud, remember a user's privacy choices, balance traffic, and protect the website. Disabling essential technologies may prevent parts of the website from working.

Preference and functionality technologies

Ayudame may use preference or functionality technologies only when needed to remember a user requested setting, such as language, location choice, or display preference. These technologies are not currently used for advertising, cross site tracking, or behavioral profiling.

Analytics technologies

Ayudame does not currently use optional analytics cookies or similar analytics technologies on its website. If Ayudame later introduces optional analytics that are not essential to provide the website, this Policy and any required consent controls will be updated before that use begins.

Advertising technologies

Ayudame does not currently use advertising cookies, cross site tracking technologies, or personal information for targeted advertising, and it does not currently sell personal information. If these practices change, Ayudame will provide required notice and choices before the change applies.

3. Service providers

The website may rely on service providers for hosting, security, session management, and essential functionality. Those providers may process technical information or use necessary cookies to deliver those services. If a user follows a link to a third-party service, that provider's own terms and privacy practices apply. Ayudame does not currently permit website providers to use optional analytics or advertising cookies on Ayudame's behalf.

4. Your choices

Most browsers allow you to review, block, or delete cookies through browser settings. Blocking cookies may affect website functions, sign in, security, saved preferences, or payment features. Device settings may provide additional controls for mobile applications and permissions.

Because Ayudame does not currently sell personal information or use targeted advertising, it does not currently process browser based opt out signals as a request to opt out of those activities. If those practices change, Ayudame will update its disclosures and response process as required by law.

5. Changes to this Policy

Ayudame may update this Policy when the website, providers, technologies, or legal requirements change. The revised Policy will be posted with an updated effective date. Material changes will receive additional notice when required by law.
